It's been nearly three months since Theater Visions moved to it's new location in Mladost and we definitely hit the ground running.

Next week we will be launching the second round of fall workshops and also opening up places in some currently existing groups. For children there's a new Elevate English group forming on Saturdays and the current Monday and Thursday groups are eligible for open enrollments. Teens can choose between Improv Games and Beginner Acting. And adults don't need to feel left as as new sessions will begin for Elevate English and Beginner Acting. LINK

The bilingual Mommy & Me Storytime also continues this month. LINK

Meanwhile The Edgar Allan Poe Soirée concludes it's run this week at KEVA in central Sofia. Tickets are still available. LINK

On 24 Oct., Mark presented at Pecha Kucha Night Sofia on the topic of Creative Intelligence. His talk was titled "The Breathing Room of Creativity." LINK

Unfortunately Mark & Gabi's pitch at The Ivan Vazov National Theatre was not selected and, of course, they are both disappointed. But they are also encouraged by the excellent meeting and that the adjudicators needed an extra week to decide!

Development has begun for Corporate Training programs that will focus on creativity, problem solving and teamwork. If you or your company are interested, send us an email for more information. LINK
