- Are you looking for a space to run a program during the day?
- Are you a university theatre student looking for an internship?

Drop us a line and let's figure out how we can work together.

Summer has officially come to a close, and we're excited to welcome a new season at Theater Visions! It's hard to believe that we've completed a full year in our new space. The studio has become a vital hub for classes, rehearsals, performances, and creative collaboration, and we're looking forward to everything the coming year will bring.

Our new classes for children, teens, and adults are now available on the website, and registration is officially open! Whether you're looking to explore acting for the first time, develop your skills, or simply have fun and meet new people, we have a range of classes to choose from. We'd love to welcome you into the Theater Visions community this season.

And there's even more coming to the studio!
New Music Lessons Coming Soon

Guitar lessons will be starting soon, with lessons available in English or French. Piano lessons will also be starting soon, with lessons offered in Bulgarian or Ukrainian. More information and registration details will be available shortly.

The Bacchae comes to Bulgaria!

Directed by Javor Gardev and featuring a Greek and Bulgarian cast, Euripides' The Bacchae is coming to Bulgaria after a successful tour filled with minutes-long standing ovations throughout Greece. This is a co-production of the Ivan Vazov National Theatre, the National Theatre of Northern Greece and the Athens Epidaurus Festival. The performance is in English with Bulgarian subtitles and features the UK band, The Tiger Lillies. Mark served as a dialect coach on this production earlier this summer. Don't miss it! LINK

FALL COURSES FOR CHILDREN, TEENS & ADULTS

Our new classes for children, teens, and adults are now on the website, and registration is open! LINK

Children's Workshops (grades K-6)

For children, we're offering three different ways to explore theatre and build confidence. Drama Kids introduces children to acting through imaginative games and creative activities, while Drama Games & Skits gives them the opportunity to develop characters, create scenes, and perform together. Elevate English combines theatre games and simple acting exercises with spoken English practice, helping children become more confident communicating in English in a fun and supportive environment. See class descriptions on the website for age restrictions.

Teen Workshops

For teens, there are several opportunities to develop both acting and creative skills. Our Acting group meets in the morning, providing a focused space to work on acting technique and performance. In the afternoons, students can choose Improv Games, exploring spontaneity, creativity, and teamwork, or Acting & Directing, where they can experience both sides of the theatrical process and begin developing their own ideas as directors.

Adult Workshops

For adults, we're offering Acting Scenes, Acting Monologues, and Improv. Whether you're new to acting or looking to continue developing your skills, these classes offer opportunities to work on performance technique, explore characters and text, build confidence, and have fun in a creative environment.
